Advocacy in Surrey

What is Advocacy?

Advocacy is taking action to help people say what they want, secure their rights, represent their interests and obtain services they need.

Advocates and advocacy schemes work in partnership with the people they support and take their side. Advocacy promotes social inclusion, equality and social justice.

Advocacy in Surrey is free, confidential and totally independent.

Advocacy in Surrey is for people who face difficulties in being involved, having their voice heard and have no other independent person to help them do so

Care Act Advocacy -

Advocacy to support individuals, carers, young carers, through any stage of a Care Assessment, Support Plan and/or Review including Safeguarding. Also includes Prison Advocacy and non-instructed Advocacy.

IMHA (Independent Mental Health Advocacy) -

Advocacy to support people facing decisions such as their treatments, medication or being detained under the Mental Health Act. Advocates have specialist knowledge of the Mental Health Act, either in a hospital or community setting.

IMCA (Independent Mental Capacity Advocacy) -

Advocacy to support people who lack capacity to be involved in important decisions about their lives, such as where they live or about serious medical treatments. Advocates have specialist knowledge of the Mental Capacity Act.
